Niklas Finné appointed Acting CEO

When Barbara Scheel Agersnap steps down from her position as CEO of Copenhagen Malmö Port (CMP) at the end of February, CFO Niklas Finné has been appointed Acting CEO.

Niklas Finné has been part of CMP's executive management team since 2019 and, in his role as CFO, has played an important part in developing the business and creating stable conditions for the company's continued progress. As Acting CEO, he will ensure continuity in the strategic work, which is now entering an important implementation phase.

"We are very pleased that Niklas has accepted this solution. We have great confidence in him, with his solid experience, clear leadership, and deep understanding of CMP's business. I am convinced that he, together with his management team, will ensure stability, progress, and continued development during an exciting period," says Claus Juhl, Chair of the Board, Copenhagen Malmö Port AB.

As Acting CEO, Niklas Finné will play a central role in implementing the company's strategy, investing in critical infrastructure, and continuing the development of CMP's position as a modern and sustainable port operator.

"I am grateful for the trust and look forward to continuing the development of CMP together with my colleagues. We are entering a period with both significant opportunities and important decisions ahead, and I look forward to contributing to the company's ambitious work," says Niklas Finné, CFO, Copenhagen Malmö Port AB.

The change takes effect on 1 March 2026 and means that Niklas will lead the organisation while the recruitment of a new CEO is underway. Niklas will also retain his role as CFO.
